

Helen Keer

Lead Specialist Learning Support Teacher

helen.keer3@norfolk.gov.uk

My Job...

I have worked as a Specialist Learning Support Teacher (SLST) with Educational Psychology and Specialist Support (EPSS) since 2019.

My role involves delivering traded work as commissioned by schools, leading Core Consultation Meetings with schools and completing statutory work as commissioned by the Local Authority.

I hold a Certificate of Competence in Educational Testing (CCET).

What I might do in school...

Complete standardised and informal assessments with children and young people. Observe children and young people in classroom and playground settings. Talk with and offer advice to school staff. Deliver SEND training. Meet parents of children and young people with SEND.

My Areas of Interest...

All areas of Cognition and Learning including dyslexia and dyscalculia.

What is important to me...

Working collaboratively with children and young people, their families and their schools to build on their strengths and to overcome any barriers to learning they may have.

Background:

I worked as a primary school teacher for 24 years prior to joining EPSS. I held the position of SENCo in a number of schools.

